

Au Vieux Bourg

Our brasserie is the rendezvous point for the local people and also of a large number of tourists, celebrities and gastronomes ...

With a stable and reliable team, Daniel Tsoutzidis and his wife Virginie Bodarwé leading the service, can guarantee an excellent quality for a reasonable price and a good service every day from 8am (except Sunday).

Whether for a special beer, a quick meal or a gastronomic treat, the Vieux Bourg is the place that will suit you in Verviers...

The team of the Vieux Bourg

Owner

Daniel Tsoutzidis, a well-known footballer in the region, has been at the head of the Vieux Bourg since 1996. He has refreshed the decoration and the menu whilst keeping it rich and complete. He has managed to take over and improve the establishment previously managed by Mr Henri Simonis since 1976. The restaurant Vieux Bourg is therefore an institution in the city center of Verviers and several generations are there to enjoy the quality always irreproachable from home cooking.

Cooking

The Chef Gilles Wergifosse (known at La Réserve de Louveigné) brings an important touch to this high place of the gastronomy of Verviers. Indeed, the seasonal products of the local craftsmen are selected by this Chef to offer you a cuisine rich in flavours and surprising textures. Gilles chooses the suppliers of quality in the region and ensures the continuity of the dishes that made the success of the house since 1999.

Service

The service is provided primarily by Daniel, the boss and his wife Virginie Bodarwé. They are helped by two faithful waiters: Marc Drapier (in the house since 1990) and bartender Philippe (in the house since 1978) as well as the entire team of waitresses and waiters...
